

FRIENDSHIP

What Is Friendship....?

Friendship is a stronger form of interpersonal bond than an association.

Friendship is a relationship of mutual affection between two or more living things.

Making a Friend....

proximity, which means being near enough to see each other or do things together

Opportunities to share ideas and personal feelings with each other

Friendship at each era.....

Childhood:

In childhood, friendships are often based on the sharing of toys.

At Adulthood

Old age friendship

Generally, friendship has two dimensions: quality and conflict

The quality of friendship is important for a person's well-being

High quality friendships have good ways of resolving conflict, ultimately leading to stronger and healthier relationships

Friendship based films

"A real friend is one who walks in when the rest of the world walks out."

"The better part of one's life consists of his friendships."

"The love of my life is the love between friends."

We conclude that....

Although my friends always make me hurt,
they are still my friends..

I really don't care with my feeling.

I just want my friends happy.

love you all.

A close-up photograph of four hands stacked together in a supportive gesture. The hands are adorned with various beaded bracelets: one with blue and white beads, another with multiple strands of brown beads, and a wide, textured brown leather-style bracelet with metal studs. The background is a soft-focus outdoor scene with green foliage and pink flowers. The text is centered over the hands in a bold, black, sans-serif font.
